

Organization Impact Earns Better Business Bureau Accreditation

August 17, 2011

Organization Impact, LLC is pleased to announce it has become an Accredited Business with the Better Business Bureau.

“We are honored to join this prestigious organization,” says Kayla Barrett, president and CEO of the company. “This is an honor not awarded to all businesses; and this accreditation speaks to the reputation and service Organization Impact strives to create each day.”

As with all businesses that are accredited by the BBB, Organization Impact has committed to the BBB Code of Business Practices. The Code is a comprehensive set of policies, procedures and best practices on how businesses treat customers. These standards call for building trust, embodying integrity, advertising honestly and being truthful.

About the Better Business Bureau

The Better Business Bureau is a private, non-profit organization with the purpose of promoting an ethical marketplace. BBB’s mission is to be the leader in advancing marketplace trust. As a consumer advocate, BBBs help resolve buyer/seller complaints by means of conciliation, mediation and arbitration. It also reviews advertising claims, online business practices and charitable organizations.
